
WANTED: RESEARCH STUDENTS FOR THE CENTER FOR SECURE CYBERSPACE

The center is looking for candidates who are focused in research, have passion to do world-class research, carry on independent and collaborative research with minimal supervision. This candidate will have the opportunity to develop independent research directions and ability to supervise Ph.D. students.

- ✓ Ph.D. in computer science, statistics, mathematics, or related area.
- ✓ Exciting research problems in socio-biological computing, online social networks, Internet traffic analysis, sensor networks
- ✓ Salary $60,000 + (negotiable)
- ✓ Opportunity to work in an intellectually stimulating environment
- ✓ Opportunity to build long-term research collaboration, publish in prestigious international journals (category A);
- ✓ Opportunity to acquire patents and other intellectual property
- ✓ Freedom of intellectual inquiry

Contact Person: Professor Vir V. Phoha (email: phoha@latech.edu)
